JEWELS

this is not a heart.

I've been drawing hearts for years.
Yet I've never tried to draw love.

What fascinates me are human beings:
their intensity, their cracks,
their contradictions.
The strength that emerges
when they embrace their emotions.

That's why my hearts
aren't ordinary.
They have edges.
They have weight.
They have a presence you can feel even before you see them.

Perhaps they're not hearts at all.
Perhaps they're people.
