EDEN

EDEN

Eden is born from a fundamental idea: the search for the origin of beauty

The human body, in its purest and most essential form, has been the greatest source of artistic inspiration for centuries. At Carrera y Carrera, this inspiration finds its expression in gold, worked as a living material, shaped with the precision and sensitivity of sculpture.

For more than 140 years, we have been sculptors of gold. In Eden, this identity is revealed with complete clarity.

Each piece in the collection captures a moment: a gesture, an emotion, a balance. Moments that our artisans translate into volume, proportion and detail with exceptional mastery.

The Embrace is one of the key pieces of the collection: a celebration of human connection, shared emotion and union in its most universal form.

Eve returns us to the purity of origin, to the serene and natural beauty of the body, to an elegance that requires no artifice.

Duo explores balance: the relationship between two forces that support each other and find, together, a perfect form.

Eden is not simply a collection; it is a way of understanding jewellery: as art, as sculpture, as emotion.

Each creation transcends ornament to become a timeless expression of beauty: a unique sculptural vision, impeccable execution and a profound connection between material and emotion.

COLLECTION ESSENTIALS

EVA The Purity of Origin

Eva represents the essence of femininity in its most intimate form. Her nude figure, sculpted with soft lines and harmonious proportions, rises with her arms towards the sky, expressing delicacy and serenity.

From her body emerges a fine chain that culminates in a brilliant, like an extension of her own vital energy.

DUO

The Balance of Two Forces

Duo, two bodies support each other in a posture of absolute balance, joined back to back in a composition of almost choreographic precision. The tension of the form, accentuated by the leg folded at an exact angle, introduces dynamism and reveals a mastery of volume and proportion.

Beyond the necklace, the design extends into rings and earrings, available with or without diamonds.

In the pavé version, light becomes a structural element, enveloping the sculpture and amplifying its presence.

With more than 140 years of history, Carrera y Carrera has conceived jewellery as a sculptural art, where each piece transcends its function to become a work in miniature. Faithful to this legacy, Eden is born—a collection that reinterprets one of the most universal themes in art: the human body.

Eden is a return to the essential, an exploration of beauty in its purest state, where form, emotion and gesture are materialised in 18-carat gold and diamonds, giving rise to compositions of extraordinary technical delicacy and artistic sensitivity.

A collection of multiple dimensions unfolds as a coherent universe in which each piece converses with the others, exploring different languages: the emotion of an embrace, feminine purity or the pursuit of balance.

Through these creations, the Maison reaffirms its identity as a sculptor of gold, capable of transforming metal into form, movement and emotion.
